

PRINCIPLES OF MANAGEMENT

Course Code IHS 222

Sem IV Batch IV

Lec 1

Unit I

Dr Raghunadhan T

Academic

- ☐ Ph.D. National Institute of Technology Karnataka
- ☐ Master of Law (MG University)
- ☐ M.Com. (Pune University)
- ☐ M.A. Sociology (Calicut University)
- ☐ M.A. Economics (Calicut University)
- ☐ MBA

Director, Vaidyaratnam Ayurveda Medical College 7 Years

National Institute of Technology, Calicut for 29 years

National Institute of Advanced Manufacturing Technology, Ranchi - 5 years

Tata Motors Pune - 5 years

MYSELF

COURSE OBJECTIVE

1

To introduce Profession of Management and help the students gain understanding of the functions and responsibilities of the manager.

2

To provide participants tools and techniques to be used in the performance of the managerial job, and enable them to analyze and understand the environment of the organisation.

COURSE OUTCOME

1

.It will help the students to gain understanding of the functions and responsibilities of managers

2

It will provide them tools and techniques to be used in the performance of managerial job.

Management: Meaning, Evolution & Schools of Thought

- Management: Concept, Nature & Evolution
- Early, Modern & Post-Modern Management Thoughts
- Contributions of F.W. Taylor & Henry Fayol
- Hawthorne Studies & Behavioural School

Introduction to Management

- Management is essential for all organizations
- It helps in achieving goals efficiently and effectively
- Applies to business, government, education, hospitals, etc.

Meaning of Management

Getting work done through others

Coordinating human and material resources

Achieving organizational objectives efficiently

In simple words:

☞ Management is the art of getting things done through people.

Definitions of Management

- Peter F. Drucker:

“Management is the art of getting things done through people.”

- Mary Parker Follett:

“Management is the art of getting things done through others.”

- Koontz & O'Donnell:

“Management is the process of designing and maintaining an environment in which individuals work together to accomplish goals.”

Nature of Management

Management is:

- Goal-oriented
- Universal (applies everywhere)
- Continuous process
- Group activity
- Dynamic
- Intangible
- Social process

• ”
.

Functions of Management

- Planning
 - Organising
 - Staffing
 - Directing
 - Controlling
 - .”
- Deciding what to do
 - Arranging resources
 - Recruiting & training
 - Guiding employees
 - Checking performance

Evolution of Management Thought

Management developed over time due to:

Industrial Revolution

Growth of large organizations

Need for efficiency & productivity

Main Phases:

Early Management Thoughts

Modern Management Thoughts

Post-Modern Management Thoughts

Early Management Thoughts

Includes:

Scientific Management

Administrative Management

Focus:

Efficiency

Productivity

Division of work

Rules and principles

Early Management Thoughts

Includes:

Scientific Management

Administrative Management

Focus:

Efficiency

Productivity

Division of work

Rules and principles

Scientific Management – F.W. Taylor

Father of Scientific Management

Objective:

Increase productivity

Reduce wastage

Improve efficiency of workers

Contributions of F.W. Taylor

Time and Motion Study

Standardization of work

Functional foremanship

Scientific selection of workers

Differential piece-rate wage system

👉 Focused mainly on shop-floor efficiency

Contributions of F.W. Taylor

Time and Motion Study

Standardization of work

Functional foremanship

Scientific selection of workers

Differential piece-rate wage system

👉 Focused mainly on shop-floor efficiency

Administrative Management – Henry Fayol

Father of Administrative Management

- Focused on management at the top level
- Gave importance to management principles

Contributions of Henry Fayol

Principles of Management (Highlights):

- Division of work
- Authority & responsibility
- Discipline
- Unity of command
- Unity of direction
- Scalar chain=top management down to the lowest rank
- Esprit de corps =a feeling of pride and mutual loyalty shared by the members of a group.

Modern Management Thoughts

Shift from machines to human behavior

Includes:

Behavioural School

Human Relations Approach

Motivation & leadership studies

Hawthorne Studies

Conducted at:

Hawthorne Works, Chicago

By Elton Mayo

Objective:

Study relationship between productivity and working conditions

The Hawthorne Studies, led by Elton Mayo in the 1920s-30s at a Western Electric plant, revealed that social & psychological factors, not just physical conditions (like lighting), significantly boost productivity, a finding known as the Hawthorne Effect, where being observed and feeling valued increases output. These studies established that work is a social system, emphasizing human relations, group dynamics, supportive supervision, and non-economic motivators like recognition, laying groundwork for organizational psychology and the Human Relations Movement.

Hawthorne Studies

Productivity increased due to attention given to workers

Social factors are more important than physical conditions

Workers feel motivated when valued

☞ Known as Hawthorne Effect

Behavioural School of Management

Focus:

Human behaviour

Motivation

Leadership

Group dynamics

Key contributors:

Elton Mayo

Maslow

McGregor

Importance of Behavioural Approach

- Improves employee morale
- Enhances productivity
- Encourages teamwork
- Promotes healthy work environment

Post-Modern Management Thoughts

Focus on:

Flexibility

Innovation

Technology

Globalization

Knowledge management

Organizations are:

Customer-oriented

Employee-centric

Technology-driven

Comparison – Early vs Modern Management

Early Management

Focus on machines

Strict control

Efficiency

Modern Management

Focus on people

Employee participation

Motivation & satisfaction

Conclusion

- Management evolved with changing needs
- Early thoughts focused on efficiency
- Modern & post-modern approaches focus on people
- Effective management balances tasks and human relations

THANK YOU

Discipline is choosing between what you want now and what you want most.”

— Abraham Lincoln